Unity Game Developer Bilintek Ltd

- Creating and developing new game prototypes using Unity Engine & C#
- Dealing with all aspects of the games like; game design, scripting, gameplay mechanics, level design, UI, VFX, and SFX, like an indie game developer.
- Working on the integration of the games with the devices that the company develops; like the "PoiseQ10" under the different company name "Quadrotics". The way my games are being played is similar to playing games with a "Wii Board".

Software Developer Proya Software (proyatech.com)

- Working on "COMOSYS"; a multi-dimensional structural software capable of 3D steel and reinforced concrete structural design, CAD, structural analysis, and steel detailing using C++.
- Written lots of code about 3D objects and their connections with "macros" in Comosys.
- Added new macros & features about steel connection design (UI included).
- Improved and renewed connection design report codes.
- Created test models and procedures.
- Bug fixes, troubleshooting, and responding to client demands.
